“Give creatively. Give courageously. Give collaboratively. And let the magic of generosity ripple out into the universe... Anyone can help turn the tide by adopting a generous mindset.”

- Chris J. Anderson,
Infectious Generosity: The Ultimate Idea Worth Spreading

Mission:

Our mission is to strengthen our region through inclusive leadership, thoughtful funding, informed giving, and collaborative action.

Vision:

We envision a community where everyone has the opportunity to live a full and rewarding life.

A Philanthropic Mindset

As I reflect on the past year, I am filled with both gratitude and awe at the remarkable generosity that defines our Three Valleys region—and increasingly extends far beyond. In a world where so many destructive things—germs, misinformation, wildfires, even negativity—can spread rapidly through our interconnected lives, it is profoundly inspiring to witness how the deliberate act of giving can also be contagious. As Chris Johnson in Infectious Generosity reminds us,

“Generosity is contagious—it spreads from one heart to another, lighting up lives in ways we often never imagined.”

This truth lies at the very heart of our work at the Three Valleys Community Foundation (3VCF). Every day, I see how our Board, Advisors, community members, local businesses, corporations, nonprofits, and civic leaders unite under the banners of “Give Grant and Grow” and “Give Where You Live.” Whether through random acts of kindness or intentional, strategic philanthropy, your giving creates a ripple effect that transforms lives and uplifts our region.

Our Impact Report is not just a recounting of grants awarded or programs supported—it is a testament to the power of purposeful generosity. It celebrates how each donation, no matter the size, inspires hope and creates lasting change in our own backyard. By weaving giving into the fabric of our daily lives and nurturing it within the next generation, we are consciously cultivating a culture where philanthropy becomes a way of life—a shared commitment to ensure that every member of our community has the opportunity to thrive.

This past year, the energy and commitment I have witnessed have been nothing short of contagious. Together, we have mobilized substantial resources to address the urgent challenges of the opioid crisis, boost mental health and wellness services, improve access to health care, and elevate initiatives in environmental health and sustainability. In addition, we have strengthened local journalism and supported a range of community-based endeavors. In doing so, we are not only meeting immediate challenges—we are building the resilient, vibrant future that our region so richly deserves.

As we build on the momentum of our past accomplishments and welcome new donors, community partners, and professional advisors from all walks of life, we continue to unite with purpose and passion for philanthropy and service. From the excitement and initial investment of our Founding Champions to the ongoing commitment of our Sustainability Circle Members, we are steadily transitioning to an embedded model that reflects the true spirit of community and collaborative action.

I am deeply thankful for your unwavering belief in 3VCF and for the spirit of generosity you bring to our community. By embracing our mission, you are making an intentional statement: that collectively, we all have the power to ignite transformative change. Your generosity, like a warm and ever-growing light, spreads far beyond its initial act, inspiring others to join us in building a better tomorrow.

Thank you for being the driving force of good behind our shared vision. Together, we will continue to cultivate a legacy of compassion, connection, and progress in the community we call home.

Building Community, Building Our Foundation

We are grateful to the community leaders, corporations and government entities who joined our journey early on to launch Three Valleys Community Foundation (3VCF). Our Founding Champions are philanthropists who believe in the power and promise of our region and how we can give, grant and grow our community together.

We celebrate our growing community of generous donors and Fundholders who steadfastly support 3VCF and our expanding vision. These Sustainability Circle Members have played a pivotal role in our formative years and through their ongoing contributions, are demonstrating their dedication to building upon the strong foundation they helped establish, as well as their commitment to supporting and sustaining our community impact.

Alameda County Opioid Innovative Mini-Grant Recipients

The Alameda County Board of Supervisors has selected Three Valleys Community Foundation (3VCF) to fiscally manage and administer $3 million dollars in Opioid Settlement Innovative Mini-Grant Program funds. Working closely with Alameda County Behavioral Health Care Department (ACBHD), 3VCF is investing available resources in county-wide organizations serving individuals and communities that provide access to and prevention treatment for opioid addiction and overdose reversal remedies.

Bay Area One Health Coalition

To address the mental health and substance use challenges in the Tri-Valley by integrating Project Pet animal-assisted therapy, holistic wellness approaches, and culturally competent wrap-around services, working with the One Health mode

Black Girls Mental Health Collective Foundation

To support the BIRTH Network to integrate perinatal mental health care with opioid remediation strategies, addressing the intersecting challenges of substance use disorders (SUD) and maternal health disparities; to train birth workers while expanding services to vulnerable youth and incarcerated individuals

California Prevention and Education Project (CAL-PEP)

To support Project MOST to evaluate the effectiveness of a fully street-based opioid treatment program, aiming to enhance engagement and improve outcomes for unhoused individuals receiving treatment for opioid use disorder (OUD)

City of Fremont Human Services To support City of Fremont's Mobile Evaluation Team (MET), a field based collaboration with Fremont Police Department, to decrease repeat emergency care visits, psychiatric inpatient hospitalizations, and continued involvement with law enforcement among unsheltered residents with substance use issues

HIV Education and Prevention Project of Alameda County (HEPPAC) To support Santa Rita Jail Medication Assisted Treatment (MAT) Engagement and Overdose Prevention Program, an expansion of current pilot "MAT for Justice-involved People with Substance Use Disorders" program that includes Pre-release Engagement, Post-release Services, Enhancement of MAT access, and staff training

National Prevention Science Coalition to Improve Lives

To increase awareness in families, and in public service and legal systems, about Positive Parenting Programs that reduce the risk that children will grow up to develop substance use disorders, through a public education campaign that offers free access to a gamified version of Triple-P

Roots Community Health

To support the East Oakland Opioid Response Initiative to expand access to opioid addiction treatment, harm reduction, and recovery support for marginalized communities, through mobile MAT, naloxone distribution, and culturally responsive care

Tha Town To expand, train and develop Junior Journalist Opioid Outreach to produce articles, podcast and videos highlighting the opioid crisis across Alameda County in collaboration with Pleasanton Weekly and Embarcadero Media Foundation; to revitalize local journalism and connect with vulnerable youth with peer-generated content to reduce and prevent opioid abuse county-wide

Tri-Valley Haven To achieve significant improvements in the support provided to victims of domestic violence and sexual assault who are struggling with substance abuse, particularly opioid addiction, by focusing on enhanced client outcomes, improved staff ability, and strengthened community collaboration

Trybe, Inc. To support the Trybe Safe Spaces Project that positively develops and empowers youth by meeting them where they are, engaging effectively through trusted mentors, and addressing obstacles like trauma, violence, and basic needs; to reduce substance abuse through preventative measures by providing healthy alternatives

West Oakland Punks With Lunch To support Harm reduction, Education and Access to naloxone for safer Lives (HEAL) Oakland, a four-pronged approach to engage and uplift the voices of drug users through increased naloxone distribution, peer counseling, innovative educational materials and a community advisory board in order to end the overdose crisis

Youth Uprising To support A Push Forward, an innovative, youth-centered initiative designed to combat the opioid epidemic in Alameda County through a multifaceted approach focusing on Prevention, Intervention, and Awareness

Moving from Transactional to Transformational with the Power of Investment

3VCF works with Fremont Bank to professionally invest the charitable assets of our fundholders to achieve a competitive rate of return. Our Foundation enjoys a special arrangement with Fremont Bank, enabling donors and nonprofits of any size to access the Bank’s professional investment services at a more competitive rate. Fremont Bank does this by pooling assets together into different investment pools.

Investment Pool Options for 3VCF Fundholders

Capital Preservation / Cash Management Pool Fund:

The strategy prioritizes principal stability, with income generation as a secondary objective. Currently, funds are allocated to a money market fund to maintain liquidity. Future allocations may include high-quality bonds to enhance yield while preserving capital.

Balanced Pool Fund: The fund follows a balanced asset allocation approach to seek portfolio growth, income, and stability. Investments combine active and passive strategies diversified across equity, fixed income, and alternative investments to optimize risk-adjusted returns and enhance portfolio resilience.

Balanced Socially Responsible Investment (SRI) Pool Fund: The fund follows a balanced asset allocation approach to provide growth, income, and stability, optimizing risk-adjusted returns and enhancing portfolio resilience. The strategy prioritizes investments that exhibit positive environmental, social, and governance characteristics.

Growth Pool Fund: The strategy emphasizes the growth of the principal by allocating 80% to 100% to global equity markets. It uses a mix of individual U.S. large-cap stocks and low-cost equity ETFs across the mid-cap, small-cap, and international equity space to achieve broad diversification and long-term capital appreciation.

Our Foundation’s “Power of Three” extends to oversight, transparency and trust. Our Investment Committee regularly reviews fund performance and policies. We also actively seek input on best practices from financial leaders in our region via our Professional Advisors Network (PAN).

Corporate Challenge Donors, Grant Funders, & Event Sponsors

Thanks to the collective support and collaborative spirit of these generous local corporations and funders, 3VCF hosted our State of Giving Gathering to award Opioid Innovative Mini-Grants to address the opioid crisis in Alameda County and Community Health Impact Grants to address mental health and wellness, health equity and access, and environmental health and sustainability in the Three Valleys region.

Amplify Your Community Impact

Three Valleys Community Foundation is delighted to provide a number of avenues for supporting philanthropy in our region. We collaborate with donors who share a commitment to our community, connecting them with local organizations to create a meaningful impact on both the people and the region we serve. Together, we can give, grant, and grow our Three Valleys through your generous donation, regardless of its size or designation.

Take part in making a transformative difference today by contributing online, mailing a check, utilizing a Donor-Advised Fund (DAF), or establishing a field of interest fund at 3VCF. We are available to assist you in developing a giving plan that is directed according to your values and interests. If you have questions or wish to discuss unique circumstances surrounding your gift, please feel free to contact our team at info@3vcf.org.

The Power of Three

Three ways we support our donors

We empower donors by honoring their priorities, distributing funds where they want them placed, and connecting them to high impact opportunities and local nonprofit leaders.

We offer deep knowledge of the key issues and opportunities in our region because we collaborate with community and nonprofit leaders who are on the front lines of service.

We steward donor funds with the highest ethical standards, including full transparency of funds and adherence to the national standards of the Council on Foundations and the Donor Bill of Rights.
